NO. 53.

Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum.
Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum works wonders. In all cases of Dropsy, Bright's Disease, Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Complaints, or Retention of Urine, these troubles are entirely cured by the Nephreticum. Female Weakness, Gravel, Diabetes, pain in the back side and loin are cured when all other medicines have failed.
See what the Druggists of Portland and San Francisco say about Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum and English Dandelion Pills:
"We have sold a large amount of Dr. Mintie's medicines; the English Dandelion Pills; also the Nephreticum, and in all cases they are highly spoken of and give entire satisfaction."
John A. Childs, Druggist, Second street, Portland.
O. H. Woodward & Co., Druggists, corner First and Alder street, Portland.
Messrs. Abrams & Carroll, wholesale, Druggists, Nos. 3 and 5 Front street, San Francisco, say:
"We regard Nephreticum as the best Kidney and Bladder Remedy before the public." All Druggists keep these medicines.
For all derangements of the Liver,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills.
For Biliousness and Dyspepsia,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills.
For Fever and Ague,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills.
Every family should keep the English Dandelion Pills on hand.
Dr. Mintie's Remedies will not "Cure all Complaints," but will, if taken according to directions, give immediate relief and perfect a cure in all troubles for which they are recommended.

To the Good People of Reno.
Having entered the field with the balance to contend for a share of the public patronage, it would perhaps be well at the start to state our claims to the above. I am not a sufferer by the fire, so claim no sympathy on that score. I believe it is the duty of the good people to give preference to old residents, provided all the things are equal, but I Brown asks fifty cents for what Smith is willing to sell for twenty-five, on the grounds that he is older by thirty years and wants to get even, the trade will naturally go to the latter. Hence I say we have no claim on the people except on those who may wish to economize. If you wish to buy your wife a fine silk dress by all means go to Enrich. If you want a suit of fine clothes go to the friend Nathan's or Abrams, but if you want a "goose roke," rat trap or jack knife go to Yankee Dodge's, where a dollar will buy a basketful. Recollect goods just as square as though sold over a marble counter. A child that can lie up the names of the articles wanted, can buy just as cheap as an expert.
P. S.—Money will be refunded on all goods that do not prove as represented.
YANKEE DODGE & Co.

MORRIS SCHWAB & Co., 19 and 21 Post street, San Francisco. Oil Paintings, Water Colors, Engravings and Frames. Velvets, Frames of every description for cabinet pictures. These elegant goods are of the choicest description and are the latest productions of some of our most eminent artists. A free Art Gallery connected with the establishment contains the finest pictures in the city, and some of the finest in America. The latest productions of the best artists in the city go directly from the easel to this gallery. Visitors from Nevada are invited to inspect this fine collection. The display of Water Colors, fine Oil Paintings, Steel Engravings, Panels, etc., is very large and elegant. Artists' materials and every style of Frames to fill the largest order.

Insurance.
We desire to say to our insurance patrons and owners of property generally that we have secured the services of Mr. T. B. Camp, a professional insurance man who has had several years practical experience in the business and is thoroughly posted in all its details. He will give his entire time and attention to insurance, thus securing care and skill in the writing of policies, so as to properly cover the risks, which is of great importance, as many sufferers by the late fire may recall, as it might have saved them hundreds of dollars in the adjustment of losses. We shall issue policies and adjust losses at our office. D. A. BENDER & Co., my31 1m Agents

MACHINERY AND LABOR.

Dull times recall to life many old prejudices. The notion is again popular that machinery is the cause of distress among the laboring classes. It is held that many men are from time to time thrown out of employment by the introduction of new machines for saving labor. Hence come, it is said, reduced wages and a lessened demand for labor. This is an old fallacy. When those machines were invented that enabled England to spin cotton for the rest of the world, English workmen raised a hue and cry against them. The occupation of the hand weavers would be gone, they said. But the power-looms gave employment to a hundred hands where two had been spinning cotton before their introduction. To explain the relations of labor to machinery it is necessary to go below the surface. The world's progress during the last one hundred years affords the best general proof of the vast benefits which mankind owe to machinery. Almost all the great labor saving machines have come into use during this period—the steam engine about 1780, Stevenson's locomotive in 1814, and the first power-loom was put up in this country in 1816. Gladstone is of the opinion that the development made within this century is equal to all that preceded it since the birth of Christ. When man learned to make the forces of nature work for him, a high civilization became possible. And it is by machinery that he is enabled to utilize these forces, to borrow energy from the universe. With the steam engine to make use of the force stored up in coal, it was found that a pennd of coal would do as much work as one man could in an hour of labor. Ten pounds of coal, at a cost of three cents, will now do the day's work of a man. It was the invention of the steam engine which ushered in this great era of machinery. Before the days of the steam engine, before cotton and woolen mills, machine shops and railroads, before manufacturing began, what was the condition of the laboring man? Fifty years ago, in the United States, the workingman lived between unplastered walls, in an unpainted house. His home had no carpet and his only light was a tallow candle. To-day the home of the industrious and sober workingman often contains comforts and luxuries that only the rich could enjoy fifty years ago. Gas and water in pipes, books and pictures, a musical instrument, carpets, stoves, crockery—all these the workingman can have to-day. Invention and capital, working together, are the agencies which have brought about these improved conditions. The inventor goes to the capitalist for means to build mills and factories, to make machines, to pay workmen. Without capital the inventor can accomplish nothing; and the capitalist must keep this capital employed or it will yield him nothing. So, for the sake of the expected return upon his investment, the capitalist spends his money for the benefit of labor by setting men at work to build mills and factories, to make machines and to operate them, and so, directly and indirectly, he gives employment to thousands. A machine may do the work of a hundred men and do it a hundred times cheaper than it could be done by hand, so that one hundred articles made by this machine will be used where one was used before. In proportion as machinery economizes labor it cheapens the cost of production, and so increases the consumption of manufactured articles. This increased demand creates employment for more men to make and operate the machinery required to supply it. Take, for instance, the manufacture of cotton cloth. The number of persons directly employed in this industry is estimated at 1,250,000. The annual product of cotton cloth is over 10,000,000,000 yards, over six yards apiece for every human being on the face of the earth. Destroy all this capital invested in cotton mills, stop all the machines for making cotton cloth, and 1,250,000 people would be in danger of starvation. Cotton cloth, if again made by hand, would go up in price a hundred fold. The workingman could no longer afford to wear a white shirt and to sleep between sheets. Thus, machinery by making goods cheaper, makes the demand for them greater, and so adds to the employment of labor. The substitution of machinery for hand labor sometimes compels men to change their occupation. The introduction of machinery tends to change the nature of the work to be done, but also to increase the demand for labor. Boring for oil and the consequent cheapness of kerosene threw most of the whalers out employment, but for every whaler who had to change his occupation a hundred men have found employment in the petroleum oil trade. It is complained that the new agricultural machines, the harvesters, mowers, reapers, etc., have lessened the constant employment to thousands, and indirectly to many thousands more. Every machine that is made of wood and iron gives a stimulus to mining, lumbering and railroading, and indirectly gives employment to a host of workers in wood and metal. Those self binding reapers which save so much labor in the harvest field used last year no less than fourteen thousand tons of wire for binding, and by reducing the cost of harvesting they make wheat cheaper, and in this way these harvesting machines have lessened the cost of bread throughout the world. The U. S. census of 1870 shows that manufacturing gave direct employment to over two million persons and that their wages amounted to $775,584,000 annually. The capital invested in manufacturing was $21,018,000, and the yearly product exceeded in value more than $4,200,000,000. Contrast the condition of the workmen of this country with the condition of the people of China and Japan, where little or no machinery is used. There, where all work is done by hand, life is a struggle for a bare existence. Here, the laboring man, by the aid of capital invested in machinery, can obtain by moderate labor not only the necessities but most of the comforts and luxuries of life. All political economists agree that machinery benefits the laboring classes. The truth of this view of the subject can be shown by proofs innumerable. A recent number of the Atlantic contained an article upon Labor and the Natural Forces, from which the figures used in this article have been taken, and they may be accepted as reliable.

THE BRAVE MURDERER.

The boys of the Pacific coast will all have read by Sunday that Anderson died bravely, while Troy Dye was very nervous and had fits of vomiting on the scaffold. Anderson seemed to feel perfectly willing to die, provided he could hold up to the last, and this sentiment is very taking among certain classes. A great deal more importance is attached to the manner of the man than the sacrifice to justice, which his execution is intended to be. For our part, it seems very little difference whether the big drunken brute, who abused his family and murdered an innocent man, held up his head and bravely said good-bye, or whether he weakened like the puking coward who died beside him. The main fact is, they were hung for murder, and that fact should never be lost sight of. No bravado or sentimentality should cloud the useful lesson. It seems to us that the better way to dispose of such matters would be to send condemned murderers to the state prison for confinement and execution, and that the custom of publishing the sickening details in newspapers be stopped. The boys of the country, and the boy men, whose minds have never gotten above the fighting age, read and study every move and every horror which can be crammed into the papers, and they are far from profited thereby.

Charles Foster, ex-member of Congress, has been nominated for the governorship of Ohio by the Republicans. He is one of the ablest men in the state, and very popular with the masses. He will tan the hide of Thurman or any other Democrat that enters the field against him.

The Boston Sunday School Excursion.

The special train, carrying the Boston Sunday school party, will arrive in Salt Lake City to-night. The party numbers three hundred school children, teachers and ministers, with Rev. Joseph Cook at their head. They will lay over in Salt Lake to-morrow, where Mr. Cook will deliver a lecture. On Monday the party will leave that place for Yosemite, where it is due on June 7th. It will probably pass Reno Tuesday night, which is to be regretted, as it will not give the excursionists an opportunity to see what a flourishing, handsome town it is.

The Can Can Coming.

Madame Rontz's troupe of light-footed blondes will show their shapes and agility at Kimball's hall Monday night. As they do not encumber their limbs with any unnecessary drapery, they are able to do some tall kicking. From the virtuous growls of the Virginia papers, it may be inferred that the performance will be as naughty as the most hardened bald head could wish.

A First-class Barber Shop.

Coleman & Pechner's barber shop has all the modern conveniences appertaining to such an institution, including fine chairs, elegantly fitted up bath-rooms, a bootblack's stand, and good artists. They will hereafter, to accommodate the public, keep open on Sundays till 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Hopeful of Recovery.

Matt. Rapp was in town to-day from Steamboat. He says his brother John rested well and was comparatively free from pain last night, though he is suffering considerably to-day. Dr. Bronson, who is his attending physician, said last night that he felt hopeful that he would pull through.

What It Cost to Fire a Gun.

Constable Avery arrested two Chinamen, Ah Ting and Ah Moe, last night for shooting within the corporation limits. They held an interview with Judge Bowker on the subject this morning. Ah Moe was discharged, but Ah Ting was fined $15, with the alternative of seven days in jail.

Methodist Episcopal Church.

There will be divine service at the M. E. church to-morrow at 11 A. M. and 7:45 P. M., Rev. C. McKelvey officiating. Seats free. All are invited. Sabbath school at 1:30 P. M.

Cheap Building Material.

C. A. Bragg advertises to sell lumber, in carload lots, at $13, and broken lots at $13 per thousand feet, and Cave Valley lime at a cent a pound. See ad. in another column.

Stocking the Truckee with Salmon.

Fish Commissioner H. G. Parker came down from Carson to-day with 8000 young salmon, which he planted in the Truckee.

JOTTINGS.

—“Living Art Pictures,” Monday night.

—Miss Eva Selby is convalescing rapidly.

—Genuine Parisian “can can” Monday night.

—Very warm and a little sultry to-day.

—“Female Bathers,” Kimball's hall Monday night.

—“Rentz Santley Blondes,” Kimball's hall, Monday night.

—The county commissioners hold their regular monthly meeting next Monday.

—“Bald head” to the front Monday night.

—The district court has been busy pretty much all day attending to probate matters.

—“Gigantic attractions,” Kimball's hall, Monday night.

—Prof. Scott's Saturday evening seance comes off as usual at Kimball's hall this evening.

—Two Chinamen, who were serving out a sentence for assault and battery on another Celestial, were released last night.

—R. H. Chatfield has been appointed agent for the Babcock Extinguishers. His advertisement will appear Monday.

—Judge King arrived yesterday from Genoa, where he had been holding court, and to-day convened the district court.

—There is a great deal of rubbish piled up in the alleys running through the block on Commercial row, between Virginia and Centre streets.

—A license has been issued by the county clerk authorizing Alfred Jose, the soda water man, to marry Jennie Felton. Rev. C. McKelvey will tie the nuptial knot this evening.

—Behrman & Co. will open their restaurant in the new Arcade hotel this evening. It has been fitted up in the most tasty and expensive style, and has several private rooms attached. They will set before their guests all the delicacies of the season.

Too Thin.

One of the offers of Hall's Safe & Lock Co. is substantially as follows: “We will put from one to ten thousand dollars, (against an equal amount) to be forfeited to him who shall pick the locks, the whole to revert to us in case of failure.” “Ensign” (recently from states prison) prompted no doubt by rival safe manufacturers, comes out with a jug handle proposition that we put $2000 in one of our safes, for him to bang away at, “the money to be his for his work.” If he fails what do we get? Too thin, Mr. Ensign, we have had enough of that kind of glory. Tell your masters it wasn't wash.

H. H. BLAKE, Traveling agent for H. S. & L. Co.

Criminal Carelessness.

A number of citizens are making complaints about parties shooting doves in the suburbs. Shots have fallen in yards and even struck houses. It is very fortunate that no serious damage has heretofore resulted, but there is no guarantee of future security unless the practice is stopped. Of course the parties who do the shooting do not intend to do any harm but that is poor consolation for any person who should happen to be killed or wounded by them.

Agricultural Society Ball.

The trustees of the Agricultural society have determined to give a ball at the pavilion on Wednesday evening, June 11th, for the benefit of the society. They had advertised to give a ball last March, but the fire upset their calculations, and it was indefinitely postponed. They propose to engage Prof. Varney's band to furnish the music. The minor arrangements have not been made yet.

The Reform Club Meeting.

The meeting of the Reform Club at Kimball Hall last night was quite largely attended. There was singing and some recitations, and an original poem was read. The hall committee was instructed to try and lease the lot on Virginia street, adjoining the Old Fellows' building, from M. C. Lake for a term of ten years.

Baptist Church.

The regular services of the Baptist church will be held at the courthouse at 11 o'clock A. M. and 8 o'clock P. M. on Sunday. The subject of the morning sermon will be “His Light and Our Light,” of evening, “The Motive and Balance Power of the Gospel.” All are cordially invited to be present.

Farming Notes.

The cold and unfavorable weather this spring is unprecedented in this section. Old residents say that crops are more backward this year than was ever known before. The little spell of warm weather we are having now is causing crops to pick up wonderfully, though, and they may not fall much short after all.

Episcopal Church.

Divine services will be held at Trinity Episcopal church to-morrow at 11 o'clock A. M. and 7:30 P. M., Rev. Mr. Jenvey officiating.

Congregational Church.

Rev. Mr. Drahnus will preach at the Congregational church to-morrow at 11 o'clock A. M., and in the evening at 7:30.

Personal.

Hon. Jack Foulkes, of Verdi, is in town.

C. C. Stevenson is in town, attending the meeting of the Agricultural Society trustees.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following transfers of real estate have been filed in the county recorder's office since May 15th:

J. B. Cain and wife to Samuel Latting, lot 13, block J; $300.

Of Interest to Those Wishing to Perfect Land Titles.

J. Stevenson, now in town, is prepared to furnish all parties wishing supreme court scrip, or private land scrip, issued under special act of June 22d, 1860, can be located on government lands in any size bodies, to suit parties purchasing. Those wishing to secure titles to their lands, or wanting to locate other land, will do well to investigate before purchasing or locating under the desert or state acts.

Trustees' Meeting.

The trustees of the Agricultural society held a meeting, pursuant to adjournment, this afternoon. Their attention was devoted principally to perfecting the trotting and racing programmes, and fixing the premiums, and also settling upon the entrance money. They had not agreed upon anything definite up to a late hour, therefore the result of their deliberations cannot be given.

Now We Have It.

Ice cream, strawberries, raspberries and genuine cream, lemonade and strawberry short-cake at Burchard & McClelland's to-morrow at 11 o'clock. Messrs. B. & McC. have elegantly furnished an ice cream parlor, and provided every convenience for the comfort of those who in a quiet, cheerful, cozy apartment desire to cater to the luxuries of the palate.

Grand Encampment of I. O. O. F. The grand encampment of I. O. O. F. meets in Virginia City on Monday and the grand lodge on Tuesday. Fourteen delegates from the Reno lodges will attend.
